

Name:- Sakshi Singh
Roll No:- 11314804921
Branch:- EEE456

Date _____
Page 1

Assignment - IKS

Ques:-1 Outline the broad classification of IKS repository. How do they categories in the classification framework differ from one another.

Ans:- → Indian Knowledge system is a generic phrase that covers practically everything about India. One approach is to merely pick the important topics representative of the knowledge corpus such as the vedas, yoga, vastu, silpa shastras, Ayurveda, Buddhism, and Jainism to define IKS. Another approach is to select phrases such as Indian psychology, Indian Arts, Dance, and Architecture and put together related works into it to construct IKS. However, whether they will qualify to be a good framework for IKS depends on their ability to meet the requirements of a classification for IKS.

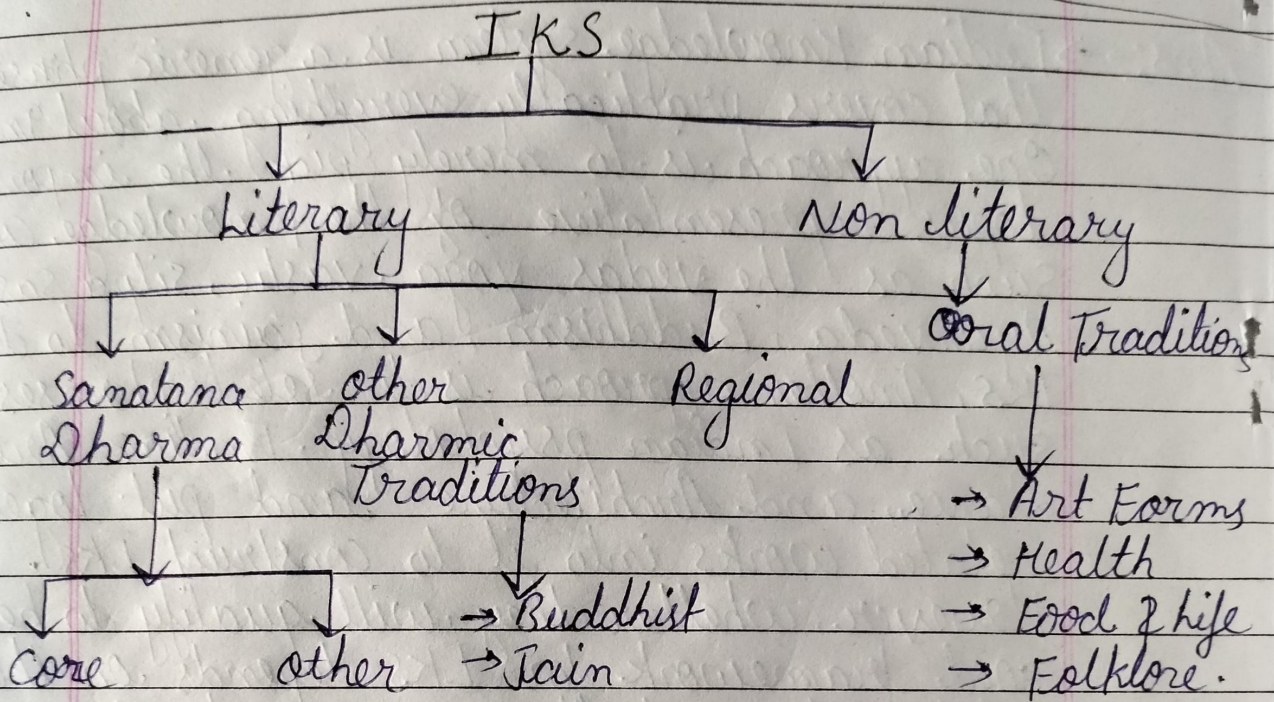

→ The usefulness of a classification framework depends on three factors:-

(1) completeness:- completeness ensures that all important components of the IKS are included in the proposed framework.

(2) compactness:- compactness indicates the efficacy of the grouping of various topics in IKS in a congruent and logical fashion.

(3) Inter-connectedness :- brings logical relationships among the various sub-classifications

→ A classification Framework

Ques:- what do you understand by the term 'veda'? Explain all in brief. what is the relevance of 'vedangs' in the context of the vedic repository?

Ans:- A veda is a collection of poems or hymns composed in archaic Sanskrit by indo-European speaking peoples who lived in northwest India during the 2nd millennium BCE. The hymns formed a liturgical body that in part grew up around the some ritual and sacrifice and were recited or chanted during rituals.

The vedas are structured in four different collections containing hymns, poems, prayers, and religious instruction.

The Indian caste system is based on a fable from the vedas about the sacrifice of the deity purusha.

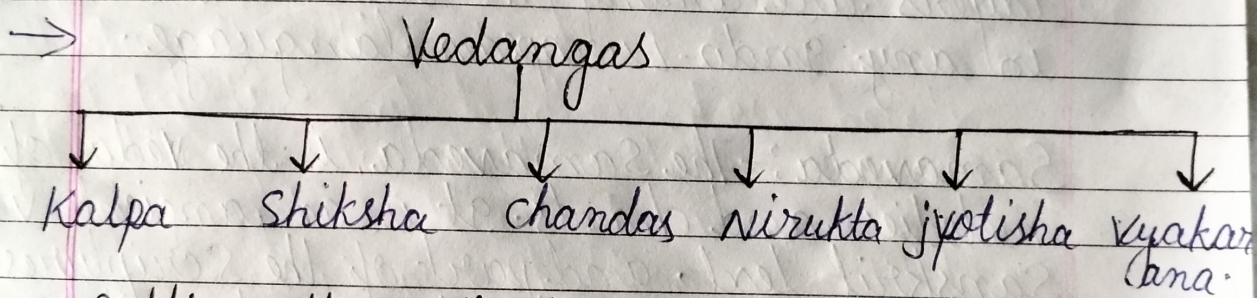

Rigveda:- The Rigveda or Rig veda is an ancient Indian collection of vedic Sanskrit hymns. It is one of the four sacred canonical Hindu texts known as the vedas. The Rigveda is the oldest known vedic Sanskrit text. Its early layers are among the oldest extant texts in any Indo-European language.

Samaveda:- The Samaveda, is the veda of melodies and chants. It is an ancient vedic Sanskrit text, and part of the scriptures of Hinduism. One of the four vedas, it is a liturgical text which consists of 1,875 verses. All but 75 verses have been taken from the Rigveda.

Yajurveda:- The yajurveda is the veda primarily of prose mantras for worship rituals. An ancient vedic Sanskrit that were said by a priest while an individual performed ritual actions such as those before the yajna fire.

Atharvaveda :- The Atharva veda is the "Knowledge storehouse of atharvanas, the procedures for everyday life." The text is the fourth veda, and is a late addition to the vedic scriptures of Hinduism. The language of the Atharvaveda is different from Vedic Sanskrit, preserving pre-vedic Indo-European archaisms.

→ Vedanga :- The vedanga are six auxiliary disciplines of Hinduism that developed in ancient times and have been connected with the study of the vedas.

Ques:-3 Outline the salient features of indian philosophical system based on vedic and non vedic school of thought.

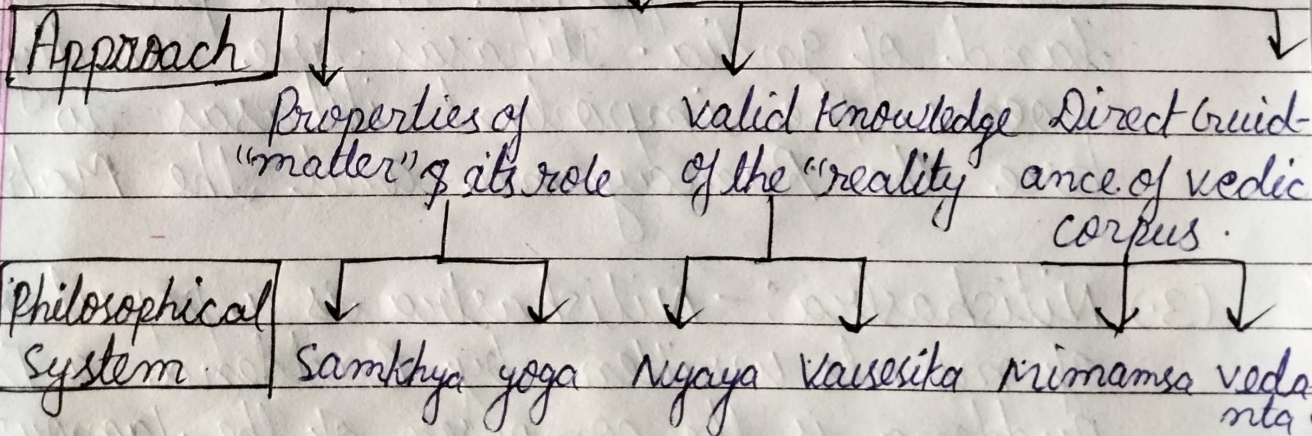

(I) → Vedic School :-

Ans:- All the schools have a common goal, to answer questions such as, "who am I?" and "what is the process for final liberation? To know oneself and escape from the cycle of birth-death and get liberated, correct knowledge needs to be obtained. The schools differ in presenting how to obtain the right knowledge and use it as the means for the ultimate liberation of the 'self'. The context for the philosophical discussion is as the means for the three inter-related concepts of God- Universe- Individual". All schools have employed several constructs involving these three entities in discussing the path for self-evolution and liberation. The six schools differ in the approach taken to reach the goal.

Goal To know "who am I?" for final liberation.

Context "God- Universe- Individual" as the three connected aspects for searching the truth and attaining the goal.

II Non Vedic schools: - The four most studied. Nastika schools of Indian philosophies, sometimes referred to as heterodox schools, are Buddhism, Jainism, Charvaka, and Ajivika.

Ques: 4 Short note

- (1.) Puran's :- The puranas contain stories about gods and goddesses, such as Vishnu, Shiva, Durga, or Parvati. They also contain details on how they were to be worshipped. Besides there are accounts about the creation of the world, and about kings. The puranas were written in simple Sanskrit verse, and were meant to be heard by everybody, including women and Shudras, who were not allowed to study the Vedas.
- (2.) Itihasa :- In Sanskrit, itihasa means history. For Hindus, an itihasa is a story that tells about what happened in the past in the land of India. Itihases are usually epic poems. The important itihases to Hindus are the Ramayana and the Mahabharata.
- (3.) Nitishastra :- Nitishastra is a popular collection of morals written by Buddena, a Telugu poet. Buddena is the composer of the famous Sumathi Satakam as well as Niti Sastra. Details about his origin are not known.
- (4.) Subhashita :- Subhashitas are known for their inherent moral and ethical advice, instructions in worldly wisdom and guidance in making righteous deeds. It creates an appeal as the inherent message is conveyed through poems which quote practical examples which are often rhythmic in nature.